Okanagan Housing Co-op (OKHC)

Subject: Addressing the Housing Crisis – The Role of Co-operative Housing and the Missing Middle

Dear [Recipient's Name],

As the Okanagan Housing Co-op (OKHC), we are reaching out to highlight the urgent need for increased support for co-operative housing as a sustainable, community-driven solution to the housing crisis—particularly for the "missing middle": Individuals and households that exceed the income threshold for social housing yet find it challenging to afford market-rate homes.

Co-operative housing provides these households with security of tenure, affordability, and a voice in decision-making—fostering strong, self-governed communities built on collaboration and shared responsibility. Expanding support for co-ops can play a crucial role in addressing the growing housing affordability gap.

A Call for Government Action

We urge your office to consider policies that promote and expand co-operative housing, including:

- Financial Support & Incentives: Increased funding, grants, or low-interest loans to help co-ops develop and maintain housing units.
- Zoning & Land Use Policies: Reforms to encourage co-op housing development, such as allocating land specifically for non-profit housing initiatives.
- Public Awareness & Collaboration: Greater recognition and integration of co-ops within municipal and provincial housing strategies.

We appreciate your time in considering the vital role of co-operative housing in addressing the housing crisis. We welcome the opportunity to discuss how OKHC can collaborate with you to ensure inclusive and sustainable housing solutions for our community.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,

Norah

YOUR GUIDE TO CO-OP LIVING

WHAT IS A HOUSING CO-OP?

A housing cooperative is an alternative non profit form of housing where residents collectively own and manage the property. Within a housing co-op each and every member share the responsibilities, costs, and voting decisions. Co-ops provide sustainable and affordable housing to likeminded community driven people.

WHO ARE WE?

Okanagan Housing Co-op is a member-driven community dedicated to providing affordable, secure, and sustainable housing in the Okanagan region. As a cooperative, we are more than just a place to live—we are a community where members actively participate in decision-making and the upkeep of our shared spaces. Our goal is to create a supportive and inclusive environment where residents have a real voice in their housing while enjoying the benefits of cost-effective, high-quality living. Together, we build a stronger, more connected community for today and future generations.

HOW TO JOIN

Becoming a member of Okanagan Housing Co-op starts with ensuring our values align. We are a community-driven cooperative that values affordability, sustainability, and active participation. If you share these principles and are interested in co-op living, we encourage you to apply! To start the process, visit our website, where you'll find detailed information about our co-op, membership requirements, and the application form. Once submitted, our team will review your application, and if there's a good fit, we'll guide you through the next steps, including an interview and orientation. Join us in building a strong, engaged community—visit our website to apply today!
